Representative of the National Allergy Society:

Hellenic Society of Allergology & Clinical Immunology

Brief description of your programme as NAS Committee Secretary (max 500 words):

The recognition of Allergology as a "main" Medical Specialty in all Europe, can become one of NAS' priorities. This would guaranty that Europeans have the appropriate treatment, by qualified Allergologists. NAS decisions can have higher impact on National Governments, than individual Allergy Societies. UEMS and EAACI are also trying to create a "tool" describing our Specialty's educational prerequisites, with similar specialty education throughout Europe and offering continuous medical education, so we can be of great help in this aim.

NAS can contribute to Allergy Science serving as a 'platform' for multicentre European studies, or to contribute in promoting and/or organizing EAACI events helping local organizing committees (Allergy Schools etc).

Finally more International collaborations can be developed in the frame of NAS, like various Consensuses on Practical issues (treating patients that move to another European country followed by a standard medical note, can be one). Finally, a NAS Allergologists' Catalogue can be created, including all European colleagues and providing useful information (like who performs Immunotherapy and what kind of it, if one practices adult or paediatric allergy etc) for European travellers.
