Nestlé helps the next generation of children to develop their full potential and live healthier lives by providing high quality, innovative, science-proven nutrition solutions and education for mothers and infants in the crucial first 1 000 Days' of life. Together, nurturing a healthier generation.

Nestlé Health Science is a science-driven nutritional health business focusing on medical nutrition and consumer health products to change the course of health for consumers, patients and its partners in healthcare. Through innovation and leading edge science, Nestlé Health Science brings forward premium-quality nutritional solutions with proven clinical, health economic value and quality of life benefits that address a spectrum of ages from pediatric to elderly. In the field of food allergy, we aim to provide safe hypoallergenic products and tools for healthcare professionals to facilitate an earlier accurate diagnosis and use of appropriate products in line with existing guidelines.

The Nestlé Nutrition Institute (NNI), as a non for profit association in Switzerland, shares leading science based information and education with practicing health professionals in all parts of the world. NNI is committed to foster the highest levels of discussion within scientific community and build nutrition knowledge globally. All exclusive resources from world leading experts are available to registered members at <http://www.nestlenutrition-institute.org>
